

Child Coping and Social Skills Group

A fun, educational, interactive and activity based group

Goals:

- Gain mastery of effective coping strategies to handle social situations
- Gain skills necessary to increase ability to make and maintain friendships
- Increase self-esteem, self-confidence, the ability to know and accept oneself, and become more assertive with others
- Gain awareness of individual strengths to help encourage and foster positive relationships and more

- Do they tend to avoid expressing feelings and state, "I'm fine", but you know they are not based on their body language?
- Do they have very few friends or struggle to fit in?
- Do they struggle to follow directions and accept decisions?
- Do they tend to struggle with standing up for themselves and struggle to be assertive?
- Are they often observed to isolate themselves in social settings?
- Do they struggle in big crowds and tend to shut down or become defiant?
- Do they say negative statements about themselves?
- Do they tend to worry excessively?

This 6 week group is designed specifically for children to become all that they are meant to be through an educational and experiential evidenced based approach set on improving and gaining friendships, decision-making, understanding their emotions and how they can impact themselves and others around them, how to ask for support at school and home, how to follow directions and accept decisions appropriately, all while increasing confidence and creating their own personal coping skills toolbox.

Fun hands-on activities keep them engaged and wanting to come back each week. Snacks and drinks provided.

Child will take home binder covering all the resources discussed during their time in group.
